She couldn't hear much. She hadn't expected that. The narrow eye holes restricted her vision to a narrow area and that she expected when he put it over her head, but now the only sound she seemed to hear was the overly loud sound of her own breath inside the mask. The raspy breath rattling inside the gas mask seemed to excite her even more, and this also surprised her.

When she met him at that club earlier in the evening she never expected to wind up here. He was tall and not bad to look at with a faintly superior air that she normally would find obnoxious. She didn't really want to be at that club but her girlfriend Joanne had dragged her along. An underground BDSM club of all things. A place where people allowed other people to do all sorts of disgusting things to them and enjoyed it. Only two weeks before such a place would have been the last place on Earth you ever would have found her. But her break up with Bruce had hit her hard. His cutting comments about her prissy attitudes and boring sex had cut her deeply. What bothered her was not that he had made the remarks themselves, but the fact that she actually thought he might be right. Sex for her had always been rather boring. Nice, but not the big thing she had heard everyone else talk about. She knew there had to be something missing, but she had no idea what.

Then this evening Joanne had dragged her to that dirty, dingy club that was actually under the basement of that dark deserted looking building downtown. Dark, dank and dimly lit, she had a bad feeling about the place from the beginning, but Joanne assured her that it was safe.

Inside, gathered around the bar (some bar, it served only soda or juice) was a collection of some of the strangest people she had ever seen in her life. It was an uneven mix of men in suits and ties with women dressed in leather corsets, men clad in leather or rubber, men in only their shoes and underwear, some on their hands and knees actually licking and fondling the bare feet of women sitting fully clothed at tables around the club, and some just walking around aimlessly with their sex organs in their hands, jerking off as soon as they came near one of the other "scenes" that was going on. These sights shocked her, repelled her and yet strangely interested her all at the same time, and then she saw them. He was a middle aged heavy set man dressed from head in toe in leather. She was an incredibly attractive young woman at least half his age dressed in almost nothing at all. She had a leather collar around her neck and leather bands around her wrists and ankles that were all attached to a bright silver chain that led to the man's hand. She had on a skimpy little leather gee string sort of thing and not much else. The girl was bare foot which surprised her more than the girl's bare breasts, since the floor in the club looked filthy at best. The man sat down at the bar and the girl sat at his feet and wrapped herself around his leg with her head resting on his thigh. He reached down and carelessly started to stroke her hair with his hand. For no reason she suddenly felt herself shudder as the girl responded to the man's hand in an almost cat like movement. Suddenly she hated that girl. Suddenly she wanted to be that girl. Suddenly she knew her life had changed forever. She turned quickly away. The heat in her groin rising up and causing her cheeks to burn red. And then there "he" was standing right in front of her smiling normally but with a knowing twinkle in his eye.

"They're a great couple aren't they?"

She managed a mumbled "a huh" which was the best she could do with all the various emotions coursing through her mind.

"He's actually a very good master," he continued. "I've seen some of his videos. And she is one of the best slaves I've ever seen in action. She is totally submissive to him. It's great to watch them together don't you think?"

This time she didn't even answer him. After the fantastic rush she felt when she heard the words slave and submissive the heat in her belly seemed to block out his words. He continued talking but the images of her on her own knees submitting to a faceless man seemed to block out all the noise of the club and she could only hear her own breath.

And now here she was only hours later bound and on her knees listening to her own breath rushing in and out of this gas mask he (what was his name again? all she could remember was Master) had placed over her head after tying her hands and legs to the bed.

She couldn't believe she was here. She, who hadn't even had sex with Bruce till they had been dating almost three months, naked and tied to a bed by a stranger who's name she couldn't even remember. Tied naked and waiting and more than willing for his cock to enter her dripping wet hole. More than willing, she was aching and needing. The fact that she couldn't see him through the little windows of the gas mask, even when she turned her head in both directions, and the muffled sound she could hear only dimly over the monstrously loud sound of her own breath only made her feel more helpless and vulnerable, and this in turn made her feel hornier and sexier then she ever remembered feeling in her entire life.

"Oh, God Fuck me Please!!!" She wasn't sure if she screamed the words or moaned them. "Please, Please, I need to feel your cock inside me so bad."

Wait, what was that. She felt his cock. He was wetting the head of his cock in the incredibly large amount of wetness that was gathering at the center of her being and dripping down both her legs in almost a gush. The touch was electric. She almost jumped out of her skin and only the terrible need she felt to be impaled on his shaft kept her from jumping away. She pushed back toward him but her bound hands and feet wouldn't allow her much movement and he pulled back with her so she couldn't push his cock into her any further without his help. And God, she wanted his help more than anything she had ever wanted before. "Oh, please."

she moaned "oh, please" she begged. "oh, please Master fuck me like your dirty little whore that I am."

Her words did it. Her dirty words. The dirty words she spurted forth, like she had never even dreamed she would ever do, did it. She felt his cock slide into her and she began to spasm. "My, God" she thought, "I'm cumming. Oh, my God, I'm cumming already." and she was. For the first time in her life she finally understood what all the fuss was about. He started to pick up speed, in and out of her faster and deeper, but it didn't matter to her. She was still cumming from his very first stroke, and as he came and fell away she still wasn't even aware of his orgasm so swept up in her own was she. Hours, days, years or seconds later she realized they were both done and once again all she could hear was her breath, still ragged and deep flowing in and out of the gas mask, and it made her see herself in her minds eye naked, tied to the bed with the gas mask on and her ass high in the air ready for more, and she was.

THE ARMY - NAVY GAME

Elise and I have been lovers on and off for about two years. I met her at one of those motivational seminars my company has a knack of sending me to when it least fits my schedule. We were assigned seats next to each other and as is typical you try to make "small talk" to get past the edginess that comes with being in a group of strangers. She was warm, friendly and needless to say good looking. She told me that she was used to having to get along with strangers because she was a "Navy Brat". Her father, a retired Commander, had seen stations all over the World and of course that meant constant moving and making new friends each time. Well, I just laughed and told her that I had been an "Army Brat" and that my Dad was a retired Brigadier, but I had never gotten used to the constant moving. Since everyone at the seminar was staying at the same hotel it wasn't hard to convince her to join me for a drink and dinner. Our conversation was about anything and everything but we were enjoying each others company so much, the next thing we knew they were closing the restaurant. I told her my company had put me in a suite and asked her if she would like to join me there for a nightcap. We got to the elevator and stepped in. As I was reaching for the button she gently grabbed my wrist and stopped me.

"Does this mean you expect me to sleep with you tonight?" she said quite matter of factly.

"No, we can just fuck, and then if you want you can go back to your own room to sleep." I replied, making sure she understood that I was joking.

"Well," she said, "if that's the case then you won't mind if I stop at my room to get something. I'll meet you at your room in ten minutes." She let go of my hand and pushed the button for her floor and I did the same for mine.

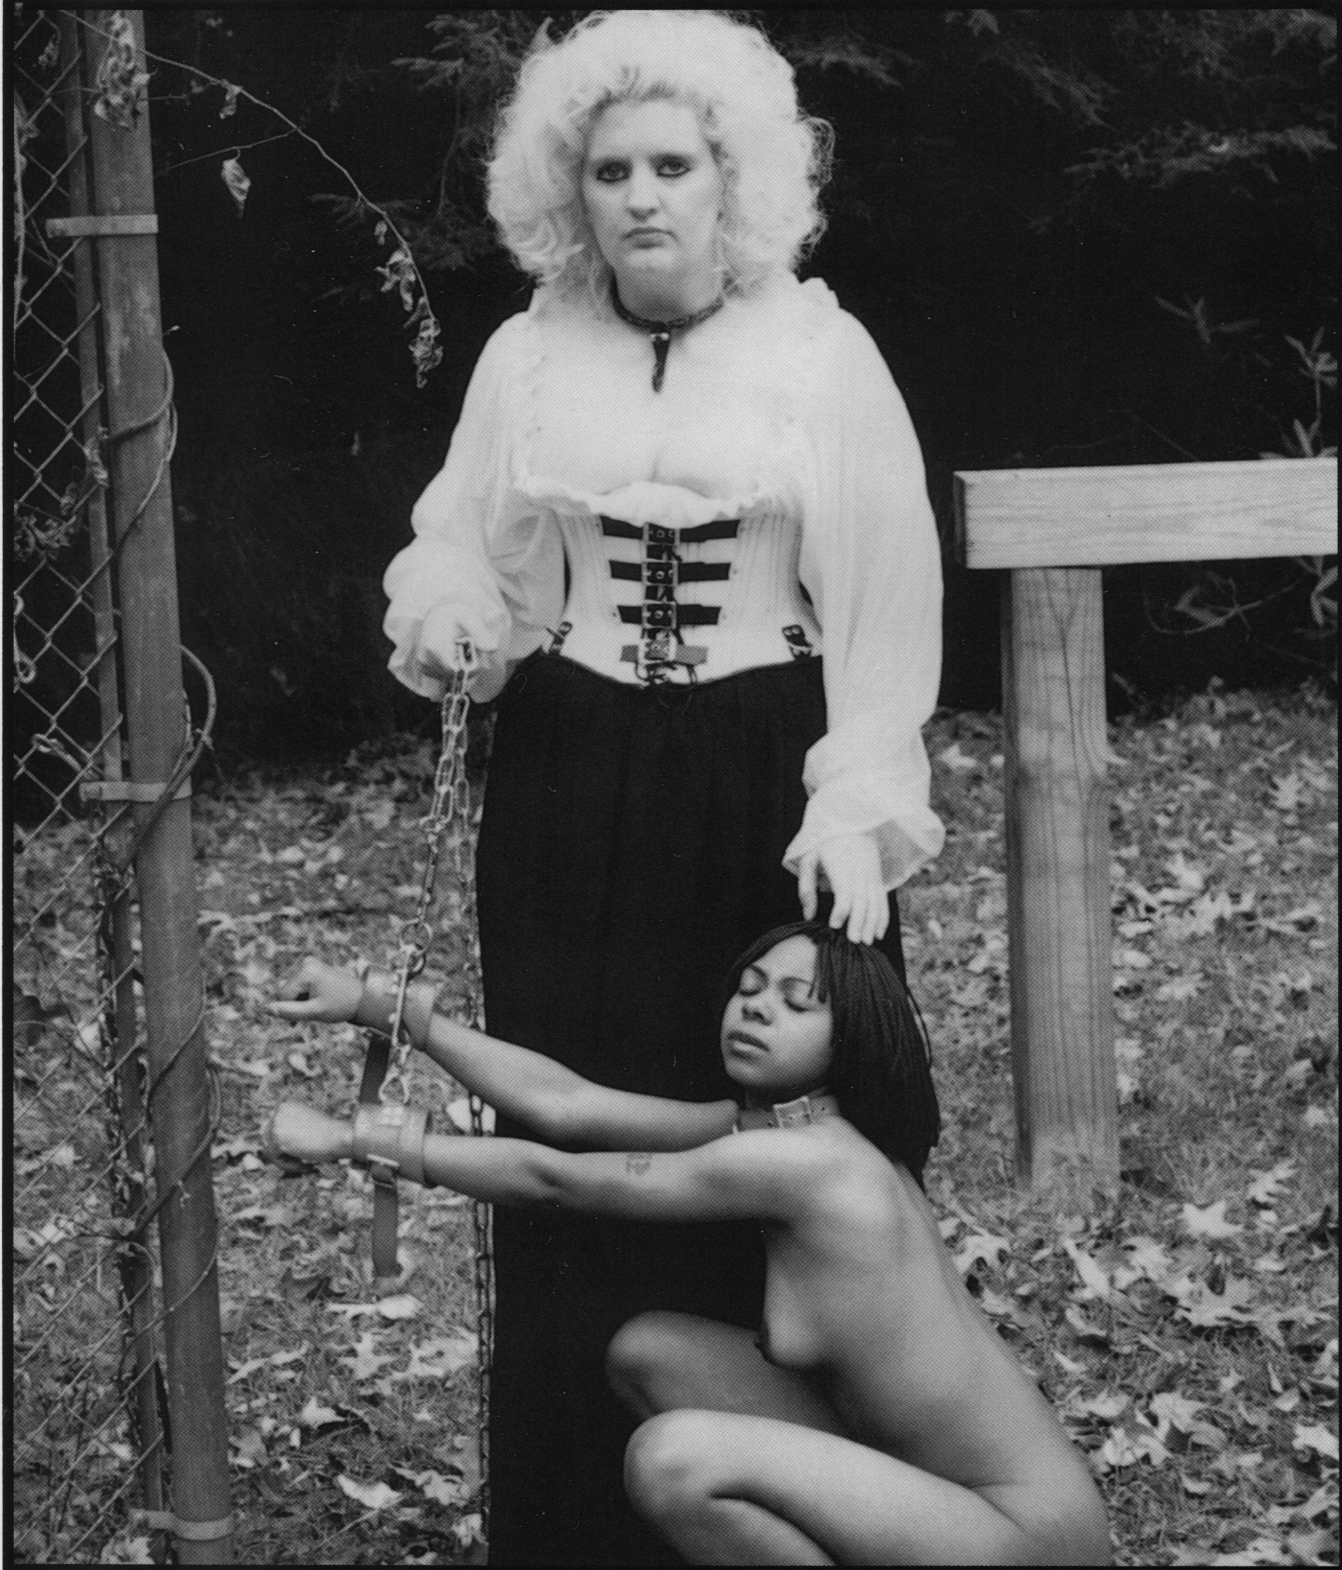

As she got off the elevator I said, "Its number nine hundred." She just glanced over her shoulder and smiled. The door closed.

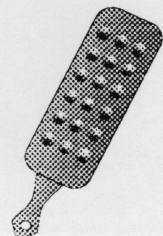

On the rest of the ride up to my floor I had kind of resigned myself to the fact that she wasn't coming, but what the hell, it was a nice dinner and at least I didn't spend my evening at the bar drinking myself into a stupor as generally happens at these kind of things. I was just taking my tie off when there was a knock at the door.

These tapes have no involved plot, no musical sound track, no fancy editing. These are real tapes, recorded as he photographed willing young women for his famous bondage book, "CHAINED." These videos are uncut and unedited. They were never made to be seen by anyone else. Take a hot, candid look behind the lens of one of the most famous photographers in the porno scene.

There was Elise. She was carrying a small square make-up case in one hand and a bottle of champagne with two glasses in the other.

"Are you just going to stand there or are you going to invite me in?" she asked in a most sultry voice.

"Entree vous." I said, bowing at the waist and making a sweeping gesture with my arm. She laughed.

We sat down on the sofa. "I have to tell something about myself before we get started with anything."

I was puzzled to say the least. What was coming I thought. A dozen different things ran through my mind. "Fire away." I responded expecting the worst.

"I have this little fetish thing about foreplay. I really get off on being tied and gagged so I always carry my little kit with me just in case." Before I could say anything she continued. "If you think this is too strange or if you don't want to it's okay, we can still have a nice drink as planned." She looked to me for an answer.

"Well, since we are being "straight" with one another I have to admit that I am a very dominant person and you won't be the first woman who I've been down the bondage road with." I hesitated to get her reaction. She seemed non-plussed so I continued. "Now that we understand one another let's have a look in that magic box of yours."

She picked up the case and placed it on the coffee table, unsnapped its latches and raised the lid. I was like a kid, I couldn't wait to see what was inside.

"Mind you, this is just my travel kit so its not really complete, but what's here should be good enough. I hope. Please." She said her voice falling off as though in submission.

In the case were several lengths of rope, a couple of wrist restraints, a pair of ankle restraints, a small paddle, a short handled cat o' nine tails, nipple clips, a large black dildo, a ball-gag, several pipe nipples with couplings and of all things a gas mask. As we continued our conversation on likes and dislikes about sex she was taking everything out of the case. She threaded the pipe nipples together and lo and behold there was a perfect spreader bar. The gas mask was more than my curiosity could take.

"What's with this?" I asked not sure what the answer would be.

"I'm really a primal screamer." She said "I like to hear myself but not have anyone else listen in."

"Well let's see how much screaming we can get you to enjoy." I said laughing as we got up from the sofa and made our way into the bedroom.

Now you might not think that there are many places on a hotel bed to tie someone up but let me tell you that where there's a will... You get the idea. She began to take off her clothing. The dress she wore was no big deal but the lingerie under it was. The bra was an open nipple job and hers were sticking right through. They were pink and beautiful and, about a half inch long. She had a matching garter belt to hold up her thigh highs and shouldn't I have known, no panties. I just took a long look.

"I never wear panties." She said. "I don't like the feeling they give me when they ride up my slit, they irritate my pussy."

She put the wrist and ankle restraints on, grabbed the gas mask and laid back on the bed.

"Okay, let's see how good you are." She teased.

I began by tying her hands over her head via the frame on the bed. Next I threaded the ropes through the ends of the spreader bar and stretched them as tight as I could tying them off at the base of the bed frame. I now had her completely immobile. There she was spread-eagle on the bed. Her pussy was wide open and already beginning to glisten with moistness. Satisfied that she was totally under my control I took the nipple clips and applied them to the proper spots.

"Mmmm." She moaned. "Please my master make them tighter."

I couldn't help but oblige. Next I took the dildo and using her own wetness to lubricate it I inserted it all the way into her pussy, not stopping the thrust until it hit bottom. Her breath began to come in short hard gasps and I could tell that she was cumming for the first time. I knew that the screaming would start soon so I put the gas mask on her and cinched down the straps so that the mask was "airtight". I took the cat and laid a couple of smart strokes on her clit just where the dildo pressed against it. I heard the first muffled scream from inside the gas mask. She was really heating up now. I moved to the side of the bed and knelt next to her and began to flick the cat on her now purple nipples while, at the same time, I used my other hand to begin fucking her with the dildo. In no time my hand was soaked with her juices and her screams from under the mask were incessant. I couldn't take it any more. I pulled the dildo out of her snatch moved between her legs and in one motion buried my now raging hardon deep into her. I fucked her as hard as I could for as long as I could and when I was about to cum I managed to tear the mask from her face.

"PLEASE!, PLEASE!!" She screamed. "Cum on my face, PLEASE!!!"

I pulled out crawled up to her chest and squirted my load all over that beautiful face.

Totally spent, I rolled off her and fell onto my back on the bed. When our breathing returned to normal I unbound her. We cleaned up and went back to the livingroom to polish off that bottle of champagne.

"Okay," She said, "when do I get a rematch, after all the score is Army 1 Navy about 50. I've never cum so hard in all my life."

We rested for awhile and went back for an old fashioned straight fuck. Since then we see each other as often as possible and are talking about moving in together to make the fun an everyday (at least once) affair. By the way there are now three gas masks in the collection and the score is Army hundreds Navy millions.

New to This

She'd never done this kind of thing before.

This last year had been one of many changes. She still couldn't believe that she'd told her husband about her fantasies. Even more shocking was his encouragement. She remembered the first time she walked into that topless club. All the girls were so young, and so slim. She felt like a cow. Her teens were far behind her and so were her size 3 days.

The club owner had surprised her by being enthusiastic about her working his club and the Customers had gone wild over her Naturally full Double D tits. No silicone here. her full breasts hung slightly low and the large full nipples stood up hard every time she took off her top on stage. The music made her want to move and the eyes of the customers made her wet and horny. Her husband loved the way she would attack him and ravage his body every night after work. She had never felt this incredible aching need before and the intensity of the experience almost frightened her. Months passed and she settled into the happy routine of her new life. She discovered that her husband not only responded to her heat he was even further turned on by her descriptions of her actions and feeling on stage.

The feelings of the hard throbbing cocks of the customers as she did her lap dances caused her to start masturbating in the ladies room between sets. She could no longer stand to wait until she got home to her husband's cock. Then one day it happened. She felt the customer cock throb in his pants as he came and she felt herself being pushed over the edge into the most incredible orgasm she had ever experienced. The customer must have thought she was crazy as she moaned and spasmed on his lap. He tipped her $20 and never knew how much else he gave her as well. She had never before felt the power of giving. The knowledge of her providing that total stranger with an orgasm was overpoweringly erotic.

She felt deep inside her self that this was what she had been created for. She knew at last what she was. She was a slut. The thought did not disturb her, instead it made her feel more at peace with herself then ever before.

Each night at the club became a non stop orgasm each time she saw a customer touch himself through his pants or felt his cock jerk as she rubbed herself into his lap she would feel herself cumming with him. Her husband couldn't believe how sexual she had become. She began to spend more and more time in the evening sucking and fondling his cock. Their sex life became something out of a porno video. The night she brought him home another dancer to share their bed he thought he had died and gone to heaven. On her part she couldn't believe how turned on she was from watching his cock spray his cum all over the other girls body. Then when her tongue licked the first drop of cum off the girl's nipples and she came she knew she was in heaven too.

But this was different, she had never done this kind of thing before. It started a couple of weeks ago at the club. She had overheard on of the other dancers talk about this photographer. He did S&M photos. Hard core sex with bondage photos. His photos were published in magazines all over the country and he lived right here in her home town. The girl had worked for him once or twice and had one of his magazines with her. Very casually, with out trying to look eager she picked up the magazine and thumbed through it quickly. She almost felt her knees buckle as she saw the pictures of these helpless girls bound, sometimes gagged, sometimes blindfolded, but always helpless, open and waiting for the photographers pleasure. By the time she finished leafing through the book quickly her panties were so wet she might have thought she had started her period unexpectedly. But the throbbing of her clit told her otherwise. She had casually memorized his telephone number which was in a Model's wanted ad in the magazine. As soon as she was alone she wrote it down. The next morning she had called him. He set up a photo shoot for her sight unseen for the following Tuesday.

Now it was Tuesday and she was in his studio and as excited as she was, she was more nervous than she had ever been. She could only imagine what was about to happen and after all, she had never done this kind of thing before.

He seemed nice enough. She had trouble imagining this man doing and then photographing the things she had seen in his magazines (Oh, yes. She had snuck out to the local bookstore and bought a dozen of his magazines the day after she had seen that first one.) He showed her to a chest of drawers and told her to find an outfit that fit her. She slipped out of her clothes and felt his eyes checking her out. She felt strange. It wasn't the hot lustful stare she was so used to at the club. This stare was professional, analytical, almost cold in its intensity. She shivered. Not from the cold (it was a little chilly) but from the delicious feeling of anticipation and ... fear? No, not fear, for although she didn't know this man and she knew what he was going to do to her she somehow trusted his cool mastery of the situation. She could feel deep within her that he knew what he was doing and she would enjoy his doing it to her, and surprisingly more important to her he would enjoy doing it.

He calmly explained that he normally preferred using chain and leather but that her tits cried out for breast bondage. The very words "Breast Bondage" made her nipples so hard they ached. He shackled her wrists to the bed frame so quickly she didn't even realize that she was helpless until he had added ankle straps and a bar to keep her legs spread. She pulled gently at the restraints suddenly realizing that she was totally his prisoner. The thick padding on the walls and ceiling testified that if she should cry out no one would hear her but instead of frightening her this made her even wetter inside. Suddenly he reached out and caressed one nipple. She knew he would. He had carefully explained that he would be playing with and touching her body. He had not apologized for this. She knew she was here to provide him with pleasure and to be photographed while doing it and that was why she was there. Her nipple quickly hardened and filled with blood as it grew and stood out from her breast.

Suddenly she realized he was placing some kind of clamping device on the sensitive nipple. As it clamped down she felt, not pain, not even a squeezing of the nipple itself but rather an almost exquisite explosion of her clit! Her cunt started to fill with liquid. He changed breasts and quickly, almost too quickly did the same with her other breast. Again the sensation was not in her breasts but much much lower. He causally reached down and felt inside her. Casually because he knew what he would find. The moistness of her insides told him far better than words that she was now his totally. His to do with and his to use for as long as he wished. As his finger explored her inside, his other finger brushed against her now super sensitive clit. A moan escaped her, a deep pleading moan the intensity of which surprised her.

All of a sudden he started to slide something heavy and rubber smelling over her head and eyes. At first she thought it was some kind of blindfold but then she realized it had little portholes for her eyes to see out of. It was a gas mask. Not a blindfold or a gag yet she felt further restrained and cut off from the real world. Although it didn't cover her ears completely she could suddenly hear her own breathing and was surprised to discover how quickly her short little breathes were coming now as she became more and more excited. His hands were back on her breasts now. He removed the nipple clamps and now she could feel the pain in her nipples. But it was a strange pain, the dull throbbing of her nipples echoed dully through her clit. She felt a deep empty throb in her pussy and began to wonder what the photographers cock looked like. She could see the bulge in his pants dimly thorough the eye holes of the gas mask so she knew he was starting to enjoy playing with her body.

His hands caressed her breasts again and she could feel his cock through his pants as he brushed against her. As he shifted position it brushed her hand and she tried to grasp it through his pants. She hadn't realized until just then that his pants were leather. He froze for only a second as her hand touched his hard leather encased cock, then he shifted position again and she could not move her hand to follow as she so wanted to. This inability to hold on to what she so wanted to caress made her feel all the more helpless and under his total control and made her want to touch him that much more.

His hands on her tits were starting to drive her crazy. She wanted, no, she needed him to reach down again and play with her some more down there. Suddenly it was as if he had read her mind as she felt something hard and long slide into her. It started to vibrate and she totally lost control. Then as quickly as it started it was gone. Too fast for her to even cum. She wanted to cum but somehow she knew that she would have to ask him permission or he would punish her. Not that she would have minded, she wanted to feel the touch of one of the many whips she could see hanging on the far wall but something deep inside her wouldn't allow her to do anything he might react to in a negative fashion.

Unnoticed he had picked up a long length of slim rope. he carefully measured to the middle of the strand and then draped it over her head and crossed it in front of her body. She felt him wrap it under her pendulous breasts and back up over her shoulders around her back then again around her body, wrapping, lifting and separating her breasts. Higher, and tighter, and again, and again. Her nipples started to throb. Her breasts were standing so far away from her body she could even see her hard thimble sized nipples standing straight from her body thorough the dim little eye ports which had almost misted over from her hot breath by now. The ropes were so tight she could feel the blood pumping in her breasts. Each throb repeated in sync in her pulsing clit. Suddenly she felt his hard cock in her hand. No longer encased in leather but naked and hot and hard. It seemed to pulse with the same throb that she felt in her breasts. She ran her hand back and forth along the hard shaft, wanting to do more. Wanting to suck and fuck this hard piece of manhood till his cum burst forth and covered her, but she couldn't move anything but her willing hand.

Suddenly her arm was free. She could move her hand, to continue to stroke him as he worked on her willing body. Perhaps he would let her loose and stick his cock deep inside every hole she owned. But he didn't seem to notice her need. Or perhaps he noticed and wanted to capture it on film while it was burning bright. Didn't he realize that she could give him so much more pleasure if only he unclipped her from her now agonizing position. But on and on he continued, moving around her, now close now further taking picture after picture when all she really wanted him to do was fuck her silly. Then suddenly his cock was right in front of her eyes. If she didn't have this damn gas mask on she could have sucked and licked him and given him pleasure he had never dreamed. But it was not to be. She cupped his balls and stroked his cock and when he asked her she begged him to cum in her face where she could see it. His cock exploded right onto the eye piece striking the hard clear glass and running down the mask and onto her outstretched tit. When she felt the hot drops hit her breast she came with a long shattering explosion that was oddly satisfying. Then he started to clean her off and untie her. They were done. For this time. As she dressed she swore to herself that next time he would fuck her completely but she knew it would always be his choice not hers.
